HAI Follows Dutch Government Advice in Response to COVID-19

Following the advice from the Dutch Government and National Institute for Public Health (RIVM) in response to COVID-19 in the Netherlands, the Health Action International team is being encouraged to work from home until the 6th of April.

Our dedicated and professional team already have the tools to work remotely from the office, so will be available and online, continuing our mission to improve access to medicines. For everyone. Everywhere.
