Civil society position on the proposal of the European Commission for the introduction of a Supplementary Protection Certificate (SPC) manufacturing waiver

As civil society organisations working on access to medicines and public health, we wish to contribute to the ongoing discussions on the European Commission proposal for the introduction of an SPC manufacturing waiver.

European health authorities have a duty to establish a framework guaranteeing access to effective, safe and affordable treatments. Over the last years, in Europe and worldwide, the prices of new medicines are rapidly rising, creating great financial stress on public health systems. We believe it is of utmost importance to prioritise patients’ needs and safeguard the sustainability of healthcare systems.

The legal proposal on the SPC manufacturing waiver has the potential to be an important step in improving access to affordable medicines. We urge decision-makers to enable the legal and regulatory conditions to ensure the immediate (day-1) entry into the European market after the SPC expiration and to apply the regulation to existing SPCs already. The expedited entry of generics and biosimilars into markets enables competition among suppliers and is credited as a main driver of price decreases and, therefore, essential for the sustainability of healthcare systems. Lawmakers and EU institutions have a duty towards society to ensure a fair competitive pharmaceutical market promoting competition and enabling affordable prices.

On several occasions, Council conclusions¹ and European Parliament resolutions² called for actions to improve access to medicines, including a specific call for an analysis of the SPC mechanism. The studies commissioned by the European Commission and national governments on the impact of SPCs on access and innovation are now available³ and point to significant reservations about the effectiveness and application of the SPC system. Therefore, the SPC manufacturing waiver proposal presents an immediate and concrete opportunity to improve access to affordable medicines for patients across Europe and elsewhere. Yet, further discussion on the SPC mechanism remains pertinent.

We remain willing to engage with all stakeholders and concerned parties and call on MEPs and Member states to fulfil their responsibility to prioritize the public interest and promote better access to quality and affordable medicines.

Supporting organisations

100% Life  France Assos Santé
Access to Medicines Ireland  Health Action International (HAI)
AGEP’C  Health and Trade Network
AIDES  Hepatitis Scotland
AIDS Action Europe  Just Treatment
ARAS - Romanian Association Against AIDS  STOPAIDS
Commons Network  Wemos
EKPIZO

This statement was developed within the European Alliance for Responsible R&D and Affordable Medicines.

Contact: Jaume Vidal - Jaume@haiweb.org
Viviana Galli - viviana@medicinesalliance.eu

Study on the legal aspects of Supplementary Protection Certificates in the EU: https://ec.europa.eu/docsroom/documents/29524